 Access Points

For more information on access to the park for people with disabilities please contact Green Spaces (details overleaf).

The Walled Garden

Tucked away in the heart of the park this unusual circular walled garden is known to date back to at least 1825. Restoration is ongoing but the garden is open to explore.

Community Garden

A portion of the Walled Garden has been leased to Teign Estuary Transition who run it as a community garden with informal weekly drop in and work gatherings. Check their noticeboard for more information or visit www.teigntransition.org.uk

Rowdens

This privately owned grand house is a listed building with historic links to the park. It replaced the earlier Rowdens which was in a slightly different location. Rowdens was thought to be a childhood home of Charles Babbage, inventor of the computer!

Rowdens Lawn

The lawned gardens of The Rowdens have long formed part of the park and provide the perfect place to relax or have a picnic.

Mules Park Meadows

These fields were presented to the people of Teignmouth by the Mules family. The meadows are allowed to grow long during the summer months to allow the tall wildflowers to thrive and set seed.

The Dell

This sub-tropical valley garden with four linked ponds and exotic shrubs was created around the time of the First World War. It now forms part of the park and its ponds and planting are under restoration.

Walking the Dog

Eastcliff is a wonderful place to walk the dog but remember to bring your bags and be sure to clear up after them. Eastcliff Park is covered by the Dogs (Fouling of Land) Act 1996 and so fixed penalties apply. The park has a total of 5 dog bins, see map for locations. There is also a 'Dog Dip', a designed shallow point in the stream where dogs can cool off and take a drink, see this symbol on map.

Cliffden

Built in 1815 by Napoleonic Naval Officer Sir John Strachan. It was subsequently home to Heber Marden who created The Dell and later the Mules family who ran it as a psychiatric hospital. It is currently a hotel for the charity 'Action for Blind People'.

A Farming Past

When the grass is short, shallow ridges are visible running north-south through this field. They are evidence of ridge and furrow ploughing back in medieval times! The fields were grazed until the late 1980's when they became part of the park.

Pay and Display Car Park (Public Toilets, no disabled access)

Stepped access (not suitable for wheelchair users)

'The Call of the Sea'

A mosaic near the bottom of the site celebrates the town's seafaring past. It was created by members of the Alice Cross Centre in Teignmouth.
